

Important Notice Regarding Product Information

Acer Gadget is implementing a phased transition to update certain product information, packaging, marketing materials, logos and labels in connection with the implementation of the EU Empowering Consumers for the Green Transition Directive (EU) 2024/825.

Existing products and packaging will be replaced progressively as distribution stocks are replenished and existing materials are naturally phased out. This approach is intended to support an orderly transition and avoid unnecessary disposal of otherwise usable products and packaging.

Some products currently available through retailers or other sales channels may still bear earlier logos, labels or statements on their packaging or product markings. Certain retailer or third-party marketing materials may also continue to display earlier logos, labels or statements. Such legacy information may refer to specific product attributes, design features or past environmental initiatives. They do not constitute, and should not be understood as, an official sustainability certification or representing the product's overall environmental performance, unless expressly stated otherwise and supported by the applicable certification or legal basis.

This notice does not replace, limit or modify any mandatory product information, warning, conformity marking or other information required by applicable law. Consumer rights under applicable law remain unaffected.
